DETAILED ACTION

REPEATED REJECTIONS

1. The 35 U.S.C. 102(b) rejection of Claims 1 – 6 as being anticipated by Duynslager et al (U.S. Patent No. 5,769,267), of record on page 2 of the previous Action, is repeated.

ANSWERS TO APPLICANT'S ARGUMENTS

2. Applicant's arguments regarding the 35 U.S.C. 102(b) rejection of Claims 1 – 6 as being anticipated by Duynslager et al (U.S. Patent No. 5,769,267), of record on page 2 of the previous Action, have been carefully considered but have not been found to be persuasive for the reasons set forth below.

Applicant argues, on page 3 of the remarks dated March 22, 2006, that Duynslager et al do not teach a capsule that is injection molded.

However, as stated on page 2 of the previous Action, a capsule that is injection molded is disclosed by Duynslager et al.

Applicant also argues on page 3 that Duynslager et al discloses bactericides, instead of a biocide as claimed.

However, because bacteria is a living organism, the disclosure of a bactericide is also a disclosure of a biocide.

Applicant also argues, on page 4, that Duynslager et al does not disclose a surface care composition.

However, because Duynslager et al disclose a bactericide, and a capsule which is digested, Duynslager et al disclose a composition for the killing of bacteria in the human body, and therefore disclose a composition for the care of the human body, including its surfaces;

Duynslager therefore disclose a surface care composition.
